Art Unit: 1731

1. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, step 2, the phrase "the phenolic resin" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, step 4 appears to contain grammatical errors.

In claim 2, line 2, the phrase "those perform" appears to be grammatically incorrect.

In claim 2, "3 dimensional" should be changed to  3-dimensional **.

In claim 2, "2 dimensional" should be changed to  2-dimensional **.

In claim 5, the phrase "the hardened test piece" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 6, the phrase "the hardened test piece" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 8, the phrase "the test piece" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 10, the phrase "test piece" has no antecedent basis.

2. Claim 1 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

3. Claims 2-10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
The prior art of record does not teach or suggest a method for manufacturing a carbon/ silicon carbide composite as substantially set forth in the claims which includes steps of heat processing a carbonized perform to 2300°C and forming an anti-oxidation layer by introducing a SiO₂ containing compound at a temperature range of 2000-2700°C. Benker (5,618,767) discloses carbonizing at 950°C and does not disclose heat processing or coating. Bouillon et al. (5,486,379) discloses the production of a SiC ceramic but does not disclose a heat treatment to 2300°C nor does it disclose the introduction of a SiO₂ containing compound at a temperature range of 2000-2700°C.

Art Unit: 1731

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
